

Commissioners:

Relaxing ownership rules paves the way for the concentration of information, viewpoints, beliefs and the suppression of alternatives. Further, a vote to modify current ownership restrictions is tantamount dismantling a framework that represents our best hope of getting a diversity of voices. America suffers when access to information is controlled by partisan politics. I urge you to keep the current guidelines, or in the alternative, to consider modifications to the proposed rules.

Respectfully Submitted, Tina L. A. Curtis, Esq.
